RYAN COUP FAILED.

Combine of Trust Companies Off.

Inability to Make Terms With Mutual Life Management the Cause.

New Policy Holders' Movement Organizers Question Undermyer's Motives.

Attorney Has Refrained from Attack on Equitable Since the Change.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Deep interest was felt in the financial district in the narrative of Thomas F. Ryan's futile effort to consolidate five of the greatest trust companies in the city and in the fact that his failure was due to his inability to make terms with the present management of the Mutual Life for the absorption of its subsidiary companies, the Guaranty Trust and the United States Mortgage & Trust Company.

Goatlip was stimulated also by publication of the fact that an independent policy holders movement is taking shape, the organizers of which openly express distrust of Samuel Undermyer's motives and declare their belief that the eminent persons composing the international Policy Holders Committee are being unwittingly used as instruments to further the plans of Thomas F. Ryan or James H. Hyde or both.

HYDE STILL STOCKHOLDER. Wall street has not forgotten that, although Hyde sold to Ryan the majority interest in the Equitable Life's stock, Hyde still holds a large block of the stock and remains one of the three largest individual stockholders.

It is pointed out that in his assaults upon the big life insurance companies Undermyer has refrained from serious attack upon the Equitable since it passed into Ryan's control.

KILLED IN GETTING EDELWEISS. MILAN, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Michael Tofra, a member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies and probably the leading political journalist in Italy, was killed yesterday on Mt. Vanderberg at Alagna. While making the ascent of the mountain he went to gather edelweiss on the edge of a precipice. His foot slipped and he fell 200 meters.

ABRUZZI UP RUWENTZORI. ROME, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A telegram from the Duke of Abruzzi, at Udine, has been received here, announcing the return of the Duke after his ascent of Mt. Ruwentzori. He will reach Marsilles September 14.

SAVED ONLY TO SUCCEED. Alpine Climber Falls to Death After Cutting Perilous Way to Peak Point.

INTERLAKEN, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After his friend had cut the rope which held him suspended over a crevasse, and after he had survived the fall, an amateur mountain climber cut the very top of the mountain, only to slip and fall again, this time to death.

Two school teachers were concerned in this latest "Alpine tragedy." Overbeck, of Al-La-Chapelle, was the one who was killed, and Kuessers, of Boon, was he whose efforts at rescue failed.

LIGHTNING KILLS PROSPECTORS.

Four Men Seeking Home Sites in Texas Struck Down While Driving Across Country.

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Four men and a team of horses were instantly killed by lightning this morning. The men were on a prospecting trip in Glasscock county and were looking for sites for homes. The dead are: S. J. PETERSON, W. A. ASHLEY, CHARLEY STAMPS, RICH.

J. B. Andrews, who was with the party, received a severe shock. The men are reported to have been driving over the country in a covered wagon. When the thunderstorm came up no uneasiness was felt by the party but the bolt struck them so that it almost tore the wagon into fragments.

VOLCANIC PEAK OF BOGOSLOVS.

REVENUE CUTTER PERRY'S MEN VISIT FIRE ISLAND.

Like Monster Beehive the New Wender Springs Abruptly from the Water to Be Veiled in a Cloud of Its Own Steam and Sulphurous Fumes—Named for the Vessel.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The Treasury Department today received a brief report of a visit made by the officers of the revenue cutter Perry, a few weeks ago, to the new peak which recently sprang up on Fire Island, one of the Bogoslov group of the Aleutian Islands, about sixty miles west of the town of Unalaska, Alaska.

The southern end of Fire Island consists of two long spits, from a half to three-eighths of a mile in length, and about fifteen feet above high water. On the western spit, the new volcanic peak has sprung up, rising abruptly from the water to a height of about seven hundred feet, and in shape resembling a monster beehive, with a base about nine hundred feet in diameter.

COLUMBUS OF STEAM. From numerous crevices columns of steam and sulphurous fumes continuously rise, and form a cloud which is visible for more than thirty miles. Although the surface of the new peak was warm and soft in places, the officers succeeded in reaching the summit.

In recognition of the fact that the officers of the revenue cutter Perry were the first persons to visit the new peak, they named it "Perry Peak."

OLIVE GREEN KHAKI FOR CZAR. Invisibility of American Army Uniforms Attracts Attention of Russian Military Authorities.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—The attention of the military authorities has been drawn to the service uniform of the American army and its qualities of serviceability and invisibility are greatly admired.

At the conclusion of the recent guard maneuvers at Krasnoye Selo, Emperor Nicholas summoned Maj. Gibson in order to make a personal inspection of olive green khaki, which the major was wearing, saying he had been watching it for several days and had been struck by its inconspicuousness at comparatively short distance and he desired to call the attention of Minister of War Rudiger to the uniform. Maj. Gibson later, at Gen. Rudiger's invitation, called at the Ministry of War and showed the general suits of infantry and cavalry uniforms. The military authorities also are considering American accoutrements, including web cartridge belts and cavalry saddles, with a view to their adoption.

PAIN DRIVES HER TO DEATH. Iowa Woman Jumps Into River at Sioux Falls, S. D., and Is Carried Over Rapids.

SIoux FALLS (S. D.) Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Grace Hayward of Fairfield, Iowa, and lately of Mitchell, S. D., because of intense suffering from an ulcerated tooth committed suicide dramatically by casting herself over the Minnehaha Falls in this city last night.

The young woman came here in agony over her aching tooth, and wrote a letter to friends in Mitchell, sending all the money she had and saying she intended to commit suicide.

Charles Simmons and Otto Steingors noticed the girl sitting by the river with her shoes off, and guessing her purpose, induced her to turn away, but suddenly she ran back and leaped from the bridge and disappeared over the falls, where seven hours later her body was recovered.

TWAIN BUYS AN OLD HOME. NEW HAVEN, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mark Twain has bought the old Noah Sherwood home in the secluded village of West Redding, Ct., and will reconstruct the house into a beautiful mansion. The house will occupy the crest of an elevation which commands a view in every direction. It will be constructed of stone chiefly and will cost $30,000.

UNDER THE SURFACE ACTIVITY SEETHES.

Loyalty of Cubans at Mercy of Native Politicians and Agitators.

Insular Conflicts of More or Less Importance Occupying the Attention of Authorities—Importers Rushing Out Goods—Two Dollars a Day Pay Offered to Volunteers—Pino Guerra Making Trouble.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The Tribune says that the President is to be appealed to by local Cuban-Americans and Americans with interests in Cuba to use his influence to end the strife now in progress before these interests are interfered with, as it is feared they will be. One word from the President to the men who are behind this movement, it is asserted, will suffice to end the uprising.

WASHINGTON MYSTIFIES. WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the face of the most critical situation which has developed in Cuba since it became a free republic, the attitude of the United States government is regarded as thoroughly mystifying.

The most notable feature of the situation here is the studied indifference which officials profess toward the crisis. This is the more remarkable, because, heretofore Cuban events of slight importance compared with the present revolution have caused apprehension in the State Department.

Underlying the professed indifference, there are signs of activity in the State and War Departments which may have bearing on the possible intervention of the United States, under the provision of the Platt Amendment.

HAVANA, Aug. 24.—Reports from country districts say that the people generally have been influenced by the Liberal leaders and are inclined to be distrustful of the motives of President Palma's government. Therefore they readily sympathize with the cause of the insurgents.

In the cities, there is much more approach to genuine patriotism, but the government's offer of $3 a day for all recruits does not meet with much more than slow response. Many men are interested in the crisis as onlookers, but a genuine desire to fight for the government is lacking.

Six hundred troops started this afternoon by train from Pinar Del Rio for San Juan De Matanzas.

GUERRA'S WESTWARD MOVE. Guerra's movement westward is not a retreat, nor is it with the purpose of occupying Guines. That town is in fact, practically occupied by resident insurgents. Guerra's purpose is to effect a junction with several hundred insurgents who are coming eastward from the vicinity of Guines.

MICHAEL J. DADY'S ARREST. TAKEN FOR FILIBUSTER. HAVANA, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Michael J. Dady, a Brooklyn politician, was arrested in Cardenas this morning by government forces. Dady, accompanied by an official of the Department of Public Works, was making certain tests on his dredging contract in Cardenas Bay.

The government forces thought the filibusters, and arrested and detained them for some time. Then they were released.

Dady was awarded the contract for dredging the harbor of Cardenas in April, 1901, for a consideration said to be $550,000. Early in 1904 he struck an asphalt bed in the harbor, from which he expected to receive sufficient return to compensate him for his losses on the dredging work, which had not proved as lucrative as he had hoped. This contract was looked upon as a balm for Dady for his failure to land contracts for repairing and constructing a sewerage system in Havana.

SEVEN YEARS' WAR. After negotiations which lasted seven years, the contract was awarded to another firm. Dady asserted at the time that he received $250,000 in

STARTLING SCHEME OF STOCK JOBBING.

The Tabasco Promoters Organized Fourteen Other Corporations With Agents in All Parts of the World. John Doe Warrants Out.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evidence secured by the police and Federal authorities, today, brought to light the fact that Henry D. Bushnell and Isaac S. Miller, officers of the Tabasco-Chiapas Trading and Transportation Company who were arrested Wednesday charged with operating a gigantic "get-rich-quick" scheme, were the promoters of fourteen corporations, alleged to be stock-jobbing concerns. A number of John Doe warrants have been prepared by Postoffice Inspector Ketchum, and it is declared that other officers of an insurgent band commanded by Manuel Gonzales, between Santo Domingo and Colon. The insurgents were scattered, and some of their arms and ammunition was captured.

RUSHING OUT IMPORTS. STEAMER TO TAMPA LOADED. TAMPA (Fla.) Aug. 24.—The steamship Gussie arrived here today from Havana, loaded to full capacity with tobacco, which is being rushed out of the island by importers.

Information received from private sources by this boat state that President Palma is virtually a prisoner in the Palace at Havana, and that he has not left it for a week. Indications are that the situation on the island is much worse than is known to the outside world. The revolution has also extended into Santa Clara Province, and has broken out in Matanzas.

ENCOUNTER NEAR SAN JUAN. It is reported here today that an encounter has taken place near San Juan Hill between government forces under Gen. Aguayo and insurgents, with the tide in favor of the latter. Many people are said to be disappearing at Guanajay, who are believed to be joining the insurgents.

Cubans here are uneasy over the resignation of Secretary of State O'Farrell. Efforts are being made to trace an American woman here in whose rooms in the Hotel Leal at Havana the plot to assassinate President Palma is said to have been hatched.

ONLY WAITING TO BE SHOWN.

CUBANS IN NEW YORK SAY THE TROUBLE IS SERIOUS.

Capture of Pinar Del Rio Would Cause Rebel Armies to Appear Simultaneously in All Provinces of the Island—Aguirre Writes to President Roosevelt.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the opinion of prominent New York Cubans who are thoroughly conversant with the affairs in their native country, the rebellion which has been started in Cuba will be the greatest overthrow of the Spanish administration, unless it is checked within a week.

Should a show of real strength be made by the insurgents, it is said, such as the capture of the city of Pinar del Rio, the movement would receive the sympathy and hearty cooperation of thousands of Cubans, who want to be sure that they have a chance to win before taking up arms against the government.

Cubans returning here from mountain and seaside resorts yesterday filled all the Cuban-American hotels and all were greatly exercised over the news from the little republic. Those who, Thursday, made light of the uprising and said confidently that it would be suppressed in a few days, were not so sanguine today, and many were free to say that the trouble had grown to serious proportions, and would greatly embarrass the Palma administration.

There were more than one hundred Cubans at the Hotel America, in East Fifteenth street, today, on their way back to Cuba, and almost as many others at the Westminster Hotel in Sixteenth street and at Hotel Muroi in West Fourteenth street. All were eager to hear direct from their homes, and all were perturbed over what they had already learned.

Hundreds of persons were unable to get accommodations on the steamship Mexico, of the Ward Line, which sails for Havana today. All the berths and rooms on her were engaged several days ago, and today there was a steady stream of applicants for accommodations.

UPRISING POLITICAL. That the present uprising is strictly political, and that it is aimed at President Palma because of his alleged failure to keep political promises, were statements made by many Cubans of prominence. In the republic, it was said, there were several hundred persons who were not rewarded for services they rendered to the government at the last election, and these persons are at the bottom of the present trouble.

They are said to be practically without means, but demonstrations of strength such as they have made during the last few days, it was declared, will enable them to get all the financial backing necessary for a revolution.

For several months, it was said, there will be grumbling throughout Cuba, and it is expected by all persons familiar with conditions in the republic that there will soon come an outbreak.

THE RALLYING POINT. Should Pinar del Rio be seized, it is said there will be an immediate growth in the movement, and rebel armies will appear simultaneously in all the provinces on the island.

According to the persons best informed concerning the political unrest on the island, no arms have yet been sent to Cuba for use by the insurgents. Cubans who have been here during the last two months, however, were eager to buy arms and ammunition, but were unable to get the necessary funds. The prediction was made that the insurgents will now get all the arms they need.

FERRARA'S WORD. Orestes Ferrara, who was arrested in Santa Clara for the second time since his arrival in Cuba, was in New York up to a week ago. He spent two months here, and lived at the New Amsterdam Hotel. It was reported that he was here in connection with the uprising, but absolute denial was made of the allegation by Ferrara.

MAD RUSH ON BANK.

Poor People Fight for Money.

Sixty Policemen Unable to Keep Order, but Prevent Destructive Acts.

Stensland's Victims Receive but Twenty Per Cent. of Their Deposits.

Alderman Beilfus Announces the Plans Under Way to End Receivership.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Sixty policemen were overwhelmed today, by a mad rush of men and women who were determined to get the first money paid out of the vaults of the ruined Milwaukee Avenue State Bank. Receiver Fetzner has made arrangements to pay 20 per cent. to 5000 of the 22,000 depositors, and there was great anxiety to be among the 5000.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More than sixteen hundred depositors of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank today received one-fifth of the amount they trusted to the institution under Paul O. Stensland, its president. Want and misery disappeared from hundreds of homes on the Northwest Side for the first time since the receivership was declared.

Never will the thousands that besieged the bank forget the scenes they witnessed. And had Stensland stood in the vicinity, neither the smiles of women nor the sparks of wine could have erased the scenes of misery from his eye and mind.

THERE BEFORE DAYBREAK. Hundreds of persons were encamped about the building at the rising of the sun. Thousands were there when the bank was opened at 9 o'clock. Men fought with men and women fought with women, that they might get a position in the line that would insure them an early payment.

Sixty policemen, under the command of Lieut. Danner, were in charge, and were compelled to work with might and main to prevent panic and destruction of the place. The people were ever on the verge of panic. A word, and it would have broken out. It seems no sum was too small to have a claimant.

Anthony Kowalski, 10 years of age, came to claim 20 cents, and many were in the crowd who carried away $1000.

NEW BANK PLANNED. While the payment of the people was the feature of the day, it was by no means the only thing of interest to those interested in the welfare of the northwest section of the city. Alderman Beilfus announced the plans for the organization of a new bank and one that would put an end to all the receiverships caused by the failure of the Milwaukee avenue institution. He said that plans were in preparation by which the business men of the avenue expected to subscribe $100,000 for the organization of a new bank. If the sum is secured and the bank becomes a reality, an attempt will be made to have the assets of the defunct institution placed in the hands of the new.

DIVISION OF ASSETS. This organization will attempt to realize as much as possible upon the assets which will then be divided among the depositors of the old bank. He said he had consulted Judge Brennan, and the latter was willing to put an end to the receivership whenever he became convinced the business men prove their enthusiasm by something more tangible than words.

STENSLAND IN LONDON. PETER O. STROMME'S FIND. MADISON (Wis.) Aug. 24.—Paul O. Stensland, president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank of Chicago, was in London August 10, according to a statement made in a letter from the English capital received by Madison relatives of Peter O. Stromme, a former Chicago newspaper man.

Stromme, who knew Stensland well, states he met the banker in London and went to call on him later in Stensland's apartments. The banker had left in the meantime for Flushing and the cities of Europe. Stromme says that Stensland apparently had plenty of money.

STANDARD OIL HIT AGAIN. JAMESTOWN (N. Y.) Aug. 24.—The Federal grand jury for the Western District of New York returned indictments today against the Standard Oil Company and the New York Central Railroad Company, charging violations of the interstate commerce law in giving and accepting special rates in the shipment of oil.

SPLendid COURAGE SHOWN BY CHILEANS.

Valparaiso to Be Rebuilt on More Beautiful Lines Than Before the Quake—People Driven from Their Ruined Homes By Rain.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

VALPARAISO, Aug. 24.—The result of the splendid courage of the people and with the cooperation of the government, Valparaiso will be rebuilt within a few years on more beautiful lines than before the disaster of August 16.

The rain last night caused most of the people to desert the tents, which they have occupied since the earthquake and return to their homes. Almost all the walls are cracked.

There was no violent earth tremor here during the night or today. Many of the people had to walk long distances, carrying their bedclothes on their shoulders.

There are no conflagrations, but the blowing-up of damaged and dangerous structures with dynamite continues.

Otherwise, the town has assumed an almost normal appearance. Many business houses have been opened.

The residences on Alegre and Victoria hills, which are occupied principally by Americans, Englishmen and Germans, suffered comparatively little damage.

In the quarter of the city which suffered most severely, entire streets have been practically wiped out.

THOUSANDS OF CORPSES.

One thousand of those who were killed by the earthquake already have been buried, and there are more than a thousand corpses beneath the ruins. For relief purposes, the city has been divided into ten sections, so that assistance may be extended systematically to those who require it. Provisions are abundant. The foreign merchants of the city have appointed a committee to assist in the relief work. Several of the consuls here have received orders for their governments to send home such of their countrymen as have not means to reestablish themselves here, or to pay their own passage to their native countries. Sheds are being constructed for the sheltering of the destitute.

The railway service is being reestablished.

PRESIDENT RIESCO EXPECTED.

President Riesco is expected to arrive here tomorrow.

Government engineers from other provinces have been ordered to come to Valparaiso to assist in making plans for the reconstruction of the city.

The summary punishment meted out to those who were caught stealing has put a stop to robberies.

The import duties on foodstuffs have been temporarily suspended.

Street traffic was paralyzed today by a heavy rain, which also caused much damage to buildings weakened by the earthquake.

Many refugees have been taken on board ships of the Chile Navigation Company at Santiago.

SANTIAGO SHAKEN BY SEVERE QUAKE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SANTIAGO (Chile), Aug. 23, 1 p.m.—(Delayed in transmission.) Another severe earthquake has just occurred here.

WORST IMPRESSIONS.

The news received here from Valparaiso continues to confirm the worst impressions formed of the situation there. Reports continue to come of strong measures taken to preserve order.

SHOT 100 ROBBERS.

At least 100 robbers have already been shot. Bodies are still being taken out of the ruins, and thus far about seven hundred have been buried. It is said that an epidemic is almost certain to occur at Valparaiso as a result of the unsanitary conditions.

The houses here are being more and more damaged by the continuing earth shocks.

QUAKES AT VALPARAISO.

RAIN INCREASES SUFFERING.

VALPARAISO, Aug. 24, 3 a.m.—There were two slight earth shocks here last night.

Rain began falling again this morning, increasing the sufferings of thousands who are living in tents. Many sought refuge in houses, whose walls are in a dangerous state of ruin.

It is believed that if the rain continues much longer, a serious epidemic is sure to break out.

WARSHIP WITH HOMELESS.

The warship Almirante Cochrane arrived at Talcahuano, province of Concepcion, today, with a large number of homeless people from Valparaiso on board. A committee of prominent women took charge of the refugees, providing them with food and clothing.

The garrisons in the southern part of Chile continue sending detachments of troops here to assist in maintaining order.

SUGGESTIONS TO CHANGE SITE.

Suggestions have been made that the site of Valparaiso be changed. President-elect Montt today declared that the idea of rebuilding Valparaiso at some other point on the coast was not feasible, and that in his opinion, the city should be reconstructed where its ruins now stand.

One of the worst features of the situation is the fact that the supplies of chloride of lime used in the disinfection of the ruins is exhausted, and some time must elapse before fresh supplies can be obtained.

A commission composed of engineers has been appointed to examine all the buildings now standing, and to report upon their condition, and those which are in a dangerous state may be pulled down.

SEARCHING THE RUINS.

The men engaged in the work of searching the ruins are working sixteen hours a day, and on all sides everything possible is being done to ameliorate the situation. In view of the crowded state of the tented district in this city, camps are being formed outside the town at food is from the Chilean warships are assisting the bakers ashore in making bread for the homeless people.

The Minister of the Interior is of the opinion that it will be necessary to pull down the ruins and rebuild completely the whole Alameda quarter, from Victoria Square to Delicias avenue, and from there to the sea, as far as Cerro, in order to regularize the ruins.

CHILD FOUND IN BARREL.

About one thousand workmen are employed clearing away the ruins here and searching for bodies. In the ruins of a house today, workmen found a child alive in a barrel which had protected it from harm.

The Naval School is to be reconstructed, and it is expected that the cadets will be able to resume their studies there in about two months.

MEXICO HOLE FOR POOR'S EARNINGS.

WORKING PEOPLE DUPED OUT OF TWENTY MILLIONS.

Federal Investigation of "Development" Schemes Is Productive of Startling Statistics—Postal Authorities, Busy and More Arrests May Be Expected.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Since the present prosperous times began, six or seven years ago, working people of this country, to the number of 100,000 have put $20,000,000 into the development of Mexican plantations, Mexican boat lines, Mexican oil wells, and similar enterprises.

This estimate is founded on facts discovered by government agents in an investigation that began last April and has not yet ended. It deals only with a string of corporations in which Henry D. Bushnell, I. B. Miller and John R. Markley of this city are interested. There are scores of other similar schemes.

The investigation came to a climax with the raid Wednesday of the Tabasco-Chiapas Trading and Transportation Company. More arrests may be expected.

WELLMAN HAS NOT SET OUT.

CONTRADICTORY REPORTS ABOUT THE ARCTIC EXPLORER.

Cablegram to London Says He Will Get Away During the First Week in September—Advices to Boston Declare That Defects in Motor Prevent Trip This Year.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Walter Wellman, leader of the Wellman Chicago Record-Herald Arctic expedition, telegraphed from Spitzbergen, August 14, via Hammerfest, Norway, today, that the completion of his balloon has been greatly delayed, owing to the magnitude of the work. Many minor defects have been discovered in the mechanical parts of the airship, and these are being repaired as fast as possible.

The motors work excellently, and the balloon part of the airship is in good condition.

Wellman says it will be still possible, with weather permitting, to get away toward the pole during the first week of September.

CONTRADICTORY TIDINGS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A special cable from Hammerfest, Norway, says wireless advices received today from Spitzbergen are to the effect that Walter Wellman has abandoned his attempt to reach the North Pole this year, owing to defects found to exist in the airship.

The above contradicts the statement of the Christiania, Norway, correspondent of the London Daily, published today, which states that Wellman had abandoned the attempt to reach the North Pole this year, owing to the lateness of the season.

THE MIDDLE WEST.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Five additional deaths were charged to the hot wave when more victims of the head died today from the effects of prostration.

The temperature kept within comparatively reasonable bounds, ranging between 72 and 79 deg. The humidity, however, continued extremely high, registering 82 deg. at 7 o'clock a.m. and 84 deg. at the same hour in the evening. Middle West temperatures:

REV. BUDANAURO MISSING.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.), Aug. 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Rev. E. E. Budanauro, formerly Cuban Commissioner of Education to the United States, a graduate of Harvard College and self-styled successor to Booker T. Washington, is missing from his pastoral haunts as leader of the Second Baptist Church of Monmouth, leaving behind a sad story and also a deserted wife.

OPERATION ON VALENTINE.

TOO MANY GENERALS IN SAME TERRITORY.

Greely Criticizes Present Arrangements as Unnecessary and Confusing—Washington Comment Applies Certain Features to Funston.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Will there be a Sampson-Schley controversy between Gen. Greely and Gen. Funston? This question is being asked by army officers as a result of Gen. Greely's criticism of the system which gives post and division commanders jurisdiction over the same territory.

Gen. Greely's report is regarded as a criticism of Gen. Funston, who was in command at San Francisco immediately after the earthquake.

Gen. Greely was in command of the Department of the Pacific, and was on his way East to attend the wedding of his daughter, and before he returned to San Francisco Gen. Funston had earned all the glory.

It is recalled that Sampson was away from his post when the battle of San Juan was fought, and Schley got the glory.

ABSTRACT OF THE REPORT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The report of Maj. Gen. Greely, commanding the Department of the Pacific, criticizing the present arrangement of divisions and departments of the army, has caused considerable discussion in the War Department, and officers are wondering what will be the effect when Congress takes up the subject again.

It is said that the report emphasizes the point several times made, that with six major-generals of the line and fifteen brigadier-generals of the line, there is great difficulty in finding places for them commensurate with their rank.

One reason for creating four divisions was to give places for major-generals. The departments being commanded by brigadiers, Gen. Greely makes it appear that there is no necessity for such dual commands, as the departments now report direct to the War Department, and the division commanders do not know what is done.

Under present conditions, there are two major-generals stationed at Governor's Island. There is a major-general and brigadier-general at San Francisco. Naturally, the division duties are not such as to require two general officers at one place with a full set of officers such as are attached to every division and every department.

Brig. Gen. Fred Funston.

Gen. A. M. Greely.

CONDUCTOR'S DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT.

Investigation Leads Electric Railway Officials to Believe Sosey's Fatal Injuries Were Caused by Contact With Trolley Pole.

After an exhaustive investigation, the special detectives of the Electric Railway have reached the conclusion that Conductor Sosey received the injuries which caused his death by the contact of his car with a pole. The young conductor passed away last night in the hospital, with his head injured, despite the united efforts of the county physicians and the company's surgeons. The remains were removed to Bessie Bros. where Coroner Trout will hold an inquest.

It was a new man, and Thursday was his first day on the run between Los Angeles and Los Angeles, all of which had been on the Pasadena line several weeks previous. Thursday, when his car was inbound, he discovered lying unconscious on the platform, his head in a pool of blood. How long he had lain there was not known, but a chance passerby discovered the car and the conductor, and on being ordered to get out, he then threw himself down on the ground, crying for a crossing guard.

INCIDENT, NOT ASSAULT.

Thursday night and nearly all of Friday, George Church, a detective of the Pacific Electric Railway, was in an endeavor to solve the case. Last night he said:

CHICAGO ON VERGE OF ICE FAMINE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive.] Although the torridity of the weather has somewhat lessened today, the ice situation is very serious. Many small dealers notify the prospect of an immediate shortage of ice. The supply would be entirely cut off by several days, as the usual supply has not been forthcoming. Increased demand has caused the price of artificial ice to cut off the customers and small dealers.

Are you "wide awake" when you get up in the morning, with a bright eye and a clear brain ready for the day's work?

Or do you have to "drag yourself out," and spend half the morning "getting your wits together?"

Maybe you're thinking too hard—but it's more likely you're eating too hard. Try for breakfast or luncheon tomorrow, and every day for a month, a dish of Apitezo, with milk or cream, and see if "that tired feeling" doesn't disappear. Apitezo is all food, and it's good for all the family. It contains the same kind of nutriment that is found in meat and eggs, and every other element necessary to produce an abundance of rich, red blood.

Apitezo also contains vegetable iron—found in no other cereal—that keeps your blood in good condition.

Put up in two forms, Apitezo Maltine and Apitezo Grains; the quality is the same in both. Sold by grocers everywhere.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
DENVER, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James C. McGill, nephew and heir of "Pittsburgh Phil," was made the defendant in a breach of promise

McGill died here by Miss Estella France, who is now in New York City, whose home is in New York City now, but who has brought suit through an attorney representative of her New York lawyers. The plaintiff is a beautiful Spanish-McGill as his wife under his promise to make her his bride when George S. Smith (Pittsburgh Phil), the undertaker. She says McGill claimed that wedding could not occur until after McGills death. She says McGill had left McGill $500,000, stipulated that she must remain a bachelor to get it. Service has been obtained on McGills, who is at Elkhorn Lodge, Estetown Park, but who has a splendid home

The principals met in San Francisco in January, 1902. In November, 1904 the plaintiff says she was deserted. Pittsburgh City died in February. A year ago, and McGill came to Denver from Pittsburgh soon after. He owns more automobiles than any other man in Colorado.

The plaintiff is about 36 years old. In exposure of methods of the noted case trial, plaintiff is promised if the suit goes to trial.

LAW TAKES STEPS TO SQUELCH LAWLESSNESS.

Judge Conrey Issues Temporary Injunction to Prevent Longshoremen's Union Continuing Its Vile Bulldozing Tactics.

THE law has stepped in to check the violence and bullying of the strike leaders at San Pedro. Yesterday Judge Conrey, in the Superior Court, granted a temporary injunction on the petition of the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company, prohibiting the union, its agents, members and others from picketing or interfering with the business of the wharves.

HON. N. P. CONREY, Judge of the Superior Court, who issued an injunction against the lawless union laborites of San Pedro.

A voluminous complaint was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Bicknell, Gibson, Trask, Dunn and others for the company, in which the Longshoremen's Union of San Pedro, Local No. 3, of the Pacific Coast Federation of Longshoremen, Steve May, its secretary, and twenty-six Does and Roers are made defendants.

COMPREHENSIVE ORDER. It is therefore ordered, and this is to command and order, that in the meantime and until the hearing of the said order to show cause, said defendants, their counsel, attorneys, solicitors, agents, servants and employees, and all others acting in aid or assistance of said defendants, and each and every of them, do absolutely desist and refrain from:

THE OPEN SHOP. Continuing, the complaint recites that the defendants by their conduct have caused a number of men to refuse to work and about twenty-five men have left since August 17, some of whom were taken from ships lying at the wharf.

THE LAW OF THE LAND. The company states that its property along the water front consists of the wharf, warehouse and appliances for loading and unloading seagoing

SENATOR MAY SAVE MARSHAL.

Influence on the President Is Youngworth's Hope.

Active Federal Politician Away for a Rest.

Evidence of Perniciousness Multiplies Rapidly.

His ears buzzing, his head swimming and his right to continue in office questioned, United States Marshal Leo V. Youngworth sailed for Catalina Island yesterday to spend a few days recuperating from the effects of his arduous campaign at the caucuses, in the primaries and at the Republican County Convention for the nomination of various candidates.

Before Youngworth left for the island it was understood that Senator Flint, who had appointed him United States Marshal for services rendered, would bring strong influences to bear on President Roosevelt to prevent the punishment or removal of the Marshal for pernicious activity in politics.

When the time arrived yesterday morning for the laborers employed in dismantling the building of the California Fish Company to fall to, five union carpenters waited upon Foreman F. T. Goveaux and told him that they would not work on the job any longer if T. Baker, a non-union carpenter, was allowed to remain.

Disgruntled Steve May, the bully leader of the striking longshoremen at San Pedro succeeded in dragging five union carpenters into the silly boycott of the wharf owners, lumber dealers and railroads. He dragged them into the midst of the angry mob with a view of deluging only to elench his fists and growl with rage an hour later when he saw the places of these men taken by six non-union carpenters.

Goveaux and told him that they would not work on the job any longer if T. Baker, a non-union carpenter, was allowed to remain.

These were the only incidents that broke the surface of smooth sailing in the situation at San Pedro yesterday. Guard lines are still maintained on both sides of the channel, saloons are still closed and the lumber schooners are being discharged with dispatch.

At the same time there were numerous and weighty additions to the evidence that Youngworth had been perniciously active in the campaign, even more so than indicated by the strong affidavit made by Marshal Stimson, who charged the United States Marshal with adopting tactics of the cheapest ward politician in pushing the candidacy of Eldridge for Supervisor of the Third District.

It remained for Mr. Stimson to make the move that brought forth the testimony that Youngworth had violated rules of the Federal government with reference to the part officeholders may take in politics.

One of the most sensational additions to the evidence against Youngworth was furnished by P. W. Hovey, a Los Angeles attorney whose home is at Prospect Park, and who was a delegate to the county convention from Calumet Precinct.

At this Youngworth is said to have become greatly excited and to have insisted that Hovey support Eldridge, the candidate who had been brought out by Youngworth, and who is understood to be favorable to the things that Dr. Lamb had declared against.

If the Republican state convention should find itself in a deadlock over the choice of a nominee, it is not without the probability that it will turn its eyes toward the South for a man upon whom the delegations holding the great power can unite and swing into line for the place. To meet this end, several names have been suggested in local political circles. Chief of these is the name of a man who has been a long and successful business man in the city, and who has been a member of the state legislature for several years. He is a man of high character, and his name is well known in the city. He is a man of high character, and his name is well known in the city. In the county is expected to come to a head or an end within a very short time, now that the Republican party has made its nominations and an opportunity is given to look for weak spots. The independent movement is said to center about the office of Joseph H. Call, a Democrat. In the Tajo Block, but Mr. Call did not display any great desire yesterday to discuss the matter or to point his finger toward the real manager.

Meantime Ben E. Ward, County Assessor, is in the campaign for election on a nomination by petition that will be filed at the proper time. Charles E. Smith also is out as an independent candidate for Supervisor of the Third District, and City Marshal Ogilvie of Pomona is crossing his bat with W. A. Hammel, the Republican nominee for Sheriff.

Don C. McGarvin will be elected chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, which will meet to organize this morning at the Republican League rooms, No. 118 1/2 South Spring street. J. J. Wash Suits and Dresses

It's an annual clearance time. The idea is to get the quantity of summer merchandise down to the smallest possible volume—the result is bargains. Reduced prices all along the line; for example—EVERY washable suit in the house has been marked down an average half, on some the reduction is a third, on other garments it is more than half. Both shirt waist suits of sheer linens, lawns, etc., and the heavier linen coat suits are included. Many garments are embroidered by hand, all are the season's newest and best styles, and none of them bore prices a penny too high in the first instance. Suits buyable for $3.75 now that were $7.50 to $10, and so on upwards, and some of our warmest weather yet to come. It's a bargain opportunity no wise woman will miss.

45c Ribbons 20c

Just enough of those 25c, 38c, and 45c faille brilliantine ribbons, together with a few polka dots and black and white striped ribbons, most of them five inches wide, to make a busy morning's selling, at 20 cents. If you've any hats to trim here's your chance.

Wearables for Men

Never knew a man who had too many good fancy waistcoats. As a rule though, a man can't indulge his taste freely, because of their cost. We've a line of broken sizes here, in handsome stylish patterns. If you can wear any of them, pay about half price.

The question of good bags and suit cases is uppermost in many prospective travelers' minds just now. And lots of well-posted people, who aren't averse to saving a large share of the exclusive leather stores' charges on such articles, are selecting from our well-chosen lines.

While styles in men's bathing suits don't vary much from year to year, still we'd much rather have the room than the company of these, and you can buy for next season, if you don't need them now.

$2 Suits now $1.50 $3 Suits now $2.50 $3.50 Suits now $2.75
$4 Suits now $3.00 $4.50 Suits now $3.50

Nightshirts cut from fine muslin, amply long, with fancy fronts, and with or without collars, fifty cents.

Stylish Ruchings, 15c

Great demand for ruchings there's been this summer, and promises to be this fall. A number of our most popular ones, white, black and colored, in full net and other styles, have dwindled to short or odd pieces, and these we can sell to bargain-wise women at 15c a yard, though they'll be cut from the same pieces we regularly sell at 20c, 25c and even 35c a yard. Better get a supply this morning.

Cake Special Tonight
7 to 9 p.m. Only

A. & C. Two-Layer Cakes, regularly sold at 35c each 20c

Tonight between the hours named above we will sell 200 regular 35c A. & C. layer cakes at 20c each. The assortment includes Devil, Caramel, Chocolate, Coconut, Opera and Chopped Nut cakes. Just one to a customer and no telephone orders filled. We offer this special just to get you acquainted with our new store, and the appetizing qualities of our cake-stuffs. We would suggest that you come early, as judging from our last special, these cakes will be sold out quickly.

BIBLE LESSONS.

FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE STUDENTS.

Prepared for The Times by J. S. Kirtley.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 28.

THE CONNECTION.

Mark 8: 11-12: "The Rich Young Ruler."

It was shortly after He healed the ten lepers. He had gone on eastward and crossed the Jordan into Perea,

and was now traveling southward to cross over into Judea again, opposite

Jericho. Somewhere on that southward journey this young man met Him and it must have been late in the

A.D. 30, for He very soon went on to Jerusalem and was crucified. His teaching still stirs the people, and thoughtful souls everywhere, the Pharisees, know that He has something to say to them that will do them good. And this is the reason why comes just after He took little children in His hands and blessed them, and told His disciples that only those who have the unpretentious spirit of children could enter the kingdom of heaven.

THE LESSON.

I. "Conscious of Need." (Verse 11.)

"And when He was gone forth into the way, there came one running,

and knelt to Him, and asked Him, Good

Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?"

(1.) His attractiveness.

This was an attractive case to Jesus, and it is to us. It was refreshing to find a perfectly sincere man. He was a frank, open-hearted official perhaps, in the local synagogue, and Jesus had found nothing but cunning cruelty, suspicion and jealousy among the officials, except in a very few instances. He had evidently heard some of Jesus' teaching and wanted more which was encouraging. He was young, and Jesus loved to save the young and thus secure the whole life. He was brave, for to make himself a disciple of Jesus would bring on his cruel hatred and persecution from his fellow-

officials, and for that Jesus appreciated

him. He was cultured and could consecrate his culture to God's service. He was influential in the community, and his influence for good was great. He was rich, and if he became a disciple that consecrated wealth would be mighty for the relief of human suffering. He was of a lovable disposition, and that attracted Jesus. He had gotten to the point of regarding the "highest good" as a personal life, which is the true answer to the old question, what is the sum-mum bonum, and that pleased Jesus.

He was eager to know how to reach that "highest good."

(2.) His search for the supreme good.

He was reverent, also, as he called

Jesus "good teacher," recognizing Him

as a teacher who had attained what he himself was seeking, and was able to instruct him in that search. He was unsatisfied with all of his previous efforts, though not dissatisfied with them. He was conscious of a lack that he felt rather than understood. The typical Pharisee thought he lacked nothing, but this man felt the want that had not yet been filled. He felt that in a measure he was good, but not good enough. He was pleased with what he had done, but felt that he must do still more. His conscience approved what he had done, but was by acute and imperious that it required

him to do more, and yet was confused

as to what it should be. He was lacking something, even eternal life. He knew that his wealth, his culture, his position and his morality had so far failed to secure that highest good for him.

(3.) His defects.

Notwithstanding all these interesting

views of him we see him very defective in his search. Two defects we noticed, something he could get for himself. If Jesus would only show him what deed of his would secure it. Thus he would inherit eternal life. He was into possession of what he was entitled to. It would be then a purely human virtue, gotten without help of God, and only with the help of another man who had by some means found out the secret of it. There was sense of incompleteness, but no sense of sin. The chief defect of his inquiry is that he did not know that Jesus had a divine element in His goodness.

II.

"Faithfully instructed by Jesus." (Verse 12.)

"And Jesus said unto him, Why cal-lest thou me good? There is none good,

but one, that is God."

"Thou knowest that I am a man, like unto men. Do not call me good; for I do not know where I come from, neither do I know what I shall do. He that is faithful unto death, he will save himself. And thou shalt have treasure in heaven: for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. And thou shalt follow me. And Jesus said unto him,

Follow me, and thou shalt have life

eternal, and thou shalt inherit the kingdom of heaven. And Jesus said unto him, Follow me, and thou shalt have life eternal, and thou shalt inherit the kingdom of heaven. And Jesus said unto him, Follow me, and thou shalt have life eternal, and thou shalt in-hered, but himself as well.

3. As to the true condition of salvation.

The true perpetual Christian principle is involved, not that the universal condition of becoming a disciple is that one sell his property and leave his business, but that one surrender himself with all his belongings to God, and hold all his wealth as a stewardship to be used as God may direct through His word and His providence.

Christ never did make such a demand

before. It was His personal treatment of the young man to show him that he had not kept the commands in spirit, and to urge him to do it. It might not have been willing, but he learned something about himself—that he could not depend on the goodness

he acquired by the law or could acquire that way. An absolute surrender of self and all that the self possesses, Christ is to be chosen first. Possibly that young man found he must return to Jews for peace.

III.

"A Warning to Others." (Verse 13.)

"And Jesus looked round about, and said unto His disciples, How hardly shall it be that have riches enter into the kingdom of God."

It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

And they were astonished out of measure, saying to themselves, Who then can be saved? And Jesus looking unto them, said, With men it is impossible, but with God all things are possible."

He used the incident to teach the disciples, as He says in His prayer,

"A new idea to Jews that riches were almost sure to keep a man out of the kingdom of heaven, for they regarded wealth as a merit. But when a man loves riches better than his fellow-men

his God, he cannot be in the kingdom."

The illustration of a physical impossibility does not mean that a rich man may not be saved, but it is afterward explains, but the impossible thing alluded to shows the exceeding difficulty of it.

IV.

"Good Cheer for the Faithful." (Verse 14.)

"Then Peter began to say unto Him,

Lo, we have left all, and have followed Thee."

"And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for My sake, and the gospel's."

"But he shall receive an hundredfold now in this time, and in the hereafter, and he shall inherit life eternal." And Jesus answered and said,

"But many that are first shall be last; and the last first."

It pays to surrender self and all in this life, too. The spiritual relationship established and riches gained outweigh the earthly losses. It will survive infinite rewards in heaven. Such surrender places the one who makes it in the very front rank, far ahead of the otherwise important people.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

To know before our Lord was more than a conviction of faith. It was a recognition of a spiritual authority above that of priest or rabbi, especially when combined with the address of "Good Master," which was incorrect to apply to any living man in His presence, and the epithet is never applied in the Talmud, even to the greatest rabbis. We cannot venture to neglect the solemn lesson which this young man's sad shrinking back among his gains and losing eternal life suggested to Jesus. But we cannot afford either, to neglect the strengthening assurances with which He softened the warning. He bade him to turn to God for help to accomplish that entrance into life which no man, be he poor or rich, can achieve by his own power, but which any man, be he rich or poor, can effect through the grace of God, enabling him to forsake himself and all he has, and to buy the pearl of great price.—[MacLaren.]

"Was not this what Christ enjoined

upon the young ruler—a conscious, deliberate surrender of all possessions

to God, in such a really way as that henceforth his sense of ownership

in them should cease and a sense of stewardship should take the place?"

[Humphrey.]

POINTS TO IMPRESS.

(1.) That one who has a good natural disposition, good training and good ambitions is very attractive to Jesus.

(2.) That one must not be content with less than the highest.

(3.) That when we try to do something that requires strength and hon-

ness we learn how weak and unholy we are.

(4.) That we need no new commands,

but only to obey the old.

(5.) That no one is an owner but only a trustee of his wealth.

(6.) That salvation from our sin comes through surrender to our Savior.

The eight inhabited islands of the Hawaiian group have a population of almost 20,000, including Japanese, Chinese, negroes, whites, Portuguese and native Hawaiians. The task of bringing such diverse people into national and Christian unity is an interesting and important as it is difficult. Though it is being wrought out on a comparatively small scale on these islands, their strategic position in the path of commerce between our country and the nations of the East, and their connection with the United States make the work of great importance. Only Christian education and Christian fellowship can utilize this new territory of ours for the regeneration of the great eastern world.

The predominant race is the Japanese. Sixteen churches are maintained by them, while the Chinese have six.

A new China is being created in the younger generation in Hawaii. Eight day schools are conducted for the Chinese in Honolulu; the Chinese hospital has opened the doors of two dispensaries in the field, and the Chinese woman have recently come from China to reinforce the work.

The rapid progress which the people of Hawaii are making in the use of the English language is a unifying element

INTAKE SOON TO BE CLOSED.

Source of Salton Sea Now Is Growing Narrow.

Turbulent Colorado Will Run in Old Channel.

Difficult Task Drives Nearer to Success.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

YUMA (Ariz.) Aug. 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The prospects for an early closing of the intake to the Salton Sea was never brighter than at present. The railroad from Pilot Knob has been completed, save for about 400 feet of temporary trestle work. Two pile-drivers are at work on this, and it is expected that the road will reach the river by the end of the present week. A quarry has been opened and 5000 tons of rock has been broken down. It will be loaded on the cars with steam shovels.

It is expected that 200 cars of rock and dirt will be delivered at the intake daily. Work on the main dam across the river has progressed so far that two weeks will, it is believed, see it completed, and a few days later will witness the closing of the Rockwood gate, when the river will again be forced into its old channel.

Such is the opinion confidently expressed by H. T. Cory, general manager, and to the average mortal it looks as though it could be done. An immense mass of willow and cottonwood, 15 inches thick and 100 feet wide, has been sunk in the river from the south side almost to the northern bank. Other mats will be laid on this, and will overlap the mats already down.

Wing dams are being built from both sides, it being the intention of the management to confine the river to a channel 100 feet wide. In this work these mats will be sunk 100 feet, 50 feet and 30 feet, respectively. Like those already down, they will be pinned to the bottom by piles driven through them and weighted by an enormous mass of rocks and dirt which the new railroad is expected to deliver.

An effort is being made to open the Imperial canal, to the new concrete headgate by the time the river is turned through the Rockwood gate. In the event of the latter not being able to carry it all, the concrete gate will be used. About 800 teams and 700 men are employed on the work. Mexicans are employed on the railroad and in the quarries, but only Indians and white men are employed at the intake. Twenty thousand second class is the present flow of the river. The estimated cost of this last effort is about $1,000,000.

HIS HOUSE A PALACE WAS.

STENSLAND HOME A MAGNIFICENT MANSION.

Pugitive Chicago Banker an Object of Envy—His Taciturn Housekeeper—How He Was Supposed to Spend "The Evening of His Life."

The home of Paul O. Stensland, the much-wanted president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, stands at the corner of Byron and Leland avenues. In stateliness of architecture and beauty of surroundings, says the Chicago Chronicle, it vies with the finest private mansions in Chicago.

Suave white, built in the style of a Grecian temple, with massive pillars supporting a spacious portico, the great house stands amid well-kept lawns and charming flower gardens, a conspicuous landmark for many blocks around. No expense has been spared to surround both beauty and luxury the home of the man who, born the son of a Norwegian peasant, became in turn a clerk in a Hindoo merchant's office, a commercial traveler in Arabia, president of a bank in Chicago, and is now a fugitive from justice, the head of a band of men and women executing his name and threatening his life.

In the neighborhood of the Stensland home the houses are mainly the comfortable homes of Chicago's well-to-do merchants. These people had been accustomed to look with envy at the lately mansion which overshadowed their humbler abodes and to speculate on the career of the man who seemed to have reached the summit of human success. The news of the great man's fall spread through the district with the customary rapidity of evil tidings, and was received with the utmost surprise and considerable incredulity.

For three weeks the great house had remained closed, with the blinds drawn close, lest the sun's searching rays might fade the costly carpets or spoil the expensive furniture. Those neighbors whose fortune forbid that they should flee from the scorched city thought longingly of the joys that the bank president's wealth could bring him and tried to encourage themselves with the example of the peasant boy who had risen so high. Then came the news of the closed bank and the ruined thousands, while hard on his heels was the information that a warrant had been issued for the apprehension of the one-time object of envy.

President Stensland was not very well known personally among his neighbors, as he was not a man who found his pleasures in society. His house consisted, since the death of his wife some years ago, of a housekeeper and a man servant, who acted as general factotum around the premises. This housekeeper was dismissed suddenly before Stensland left on his supposed vacation. None of the people in the neighborhood seemed to know much about this woman, and were strangely reticent when her name was mentioned.

It was apparent that the housekeeper was not of great importance. The man who completed the establishment was of the same nationality as his master, an elderly man, who spoke broken English, and was very much of that. He did not appear to know very much of his employer's movements, and had received no word from him during his absence, nor had been informed as to the likelihood of his return. In regard to the strangely dismissed housekeeper he preserved absolute silence, and professed to know absolutely nothing about the woman. Stensland's reputation throughout the district where he lived was that of a successful business man, who, having acquired an ample fortune, was quietly spending the evening of his life amidst befitting luxury and ease. The most commonly expressed opinion was one of surprise that a man at his time of life should risk his honor and fortune by dishonesty.

Paul Stensland has had an eventful and varied career. Born in 1847, in Stavanger, Norway, of parents in a humble station of life, the spirit of adventure, which seems to have been the prevailing note of his character, led him at the age of 18 to go to sea. He sailed to India, where he left the sea to become a clerk in a Parsee merchant's office in Bombay.

He remained in the East six years, during which time he fought his way up from the position of junior clerk in a native merchant of Calcutta to an important post of traveling buyer for a number of important English and native firms. In this capacity he traveled extensively through Arabia and Persia, as well as in Hindoostan, and gained a reputation as a capable and reliable man of business and was known as a linguist of remarkable ability.

Tiring of the Orient, he turned toward America, and arrived in Chicago in 1871, where he embarked in the dry-goods business in a small way. In the same year he was married to Karen Elden, the result of which marriage was two children, Theodore and Inga. Theodore Stensland is vice-president of the bank, and is also a lawyer. His office is No. 108 La Salle street. He is also Norwegian Consul for Chicago.

After some years in the dry-goods business, Stensland entered the insurance business, and later commenced to operate in real estate, in which he is said to have been very successful. The foundation of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, with Stensland as president, seemed to mark the culmination of a remarkably successful career.

KINGS BURIED IN PRISON.

The Tombs of Plantagenets in France Will Not Be Disturbed.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

PARIS, Aug. 25.—After all the tombs of the great Plantagenets, Richard Coeur de Lion and Henry II, will remain undisturbed in the dead city of Anjou. There has been much talk recently of the tombs and the remains of their occupants being removed to Westminster Abbey in London, but the British Ambassador here has just announced that the British government will take no steps in the matter.

So the Plantagenets, who have lain in the abbey at Fontevault for over seven hundred years, will probably rest there in peace till the crack of doom. They have only once been disturbed. This was during the revolution, when the "Redcaps" tried to stamp out all traces of kings and kingdoms, and despoiled the tombs and molested the king's ashes. In 1816, Stothard, the traveler, discovered the royal tombstones in the cellars of the old and famous abbey and shortly afterward the tombs were restored.

When France turned the abbey into a convict prison, Stothard wanted to move the royal tombs to Westminster Abbey, but France's opposition was great. Both kings were as much French as English, was argued. It is neither king could speak English, only French. They governed more French territory than English. French was in family and in blood and lived almost exclusively in France.

Hundreds of Americans yearly visit Fontevault and the tombs. Probably few of them know that Henry was Count of Maine, and that the State of that name was called after his possessions in France.

Fontevault is a little village in the forest of the same name on the River Loire, southwest of Paris. The abbey was founded in the eleventh century. Its massiveness appealed to the French government, which turned it into a convict prison in the reign of Napoleon III. The tombs of those of the Plantagenets, Richard Coeur de Lion and his wife, Richard Coeur de Lion and Isabelle d'Angoulême, wife of John Lackland.

Henry II was the great "lawyer" King. He married the divorced wife of Louis VII and through her, secured many French provinces. It was he who conquered Ireland, and forced Scotland and Wales to acknowledge his authority. He destroyed the "adulterine" castles of the peers of England, established assizes, and did a host of things to put the law on a solid basis. The world has him to thank for the present jury system, which he established. It was during his reign that Becket was murdered. He had much fighting to do, largely against his own sons, and his later years were full of trouble. He died, worn out, in France. His funeral was a strange and dramatic one. He died cursing his sons, particularly Richard. When the Lion-Heart heard of his father's death, from public rumor, he went to Fontevault Abbey.

The King's body lay in a coffin with a dirty and ancient shroud around it. The face was uncovered. As soon as Richard came in sight, blood began to flow from the nostrils and the face contracted into a hideous leer of hate. Richard tried to say a prayer, but it was half finished when he fled from the place, never to return. The monks had great difficulty to get anyone to dress the body with kingly emblems. It was decidedly a case of "Vive le Roi mort; Vive le Roi!" The monks finally secured an old worn-out sealer and made an imitation royal signet ring. For a crown the monks made a diadem from a piece of gold fringe torn off in a moment from a woman's petticoat. With these tawdry royal insignia, with the lone chant of the monks, without a single mourner, the King was laid in his tomb. It was discovered with Richard. When in later years, he was laid beside his father, there was a blare of trumpets, dashing regalia, and a host of princely mourners. It is the story of the gorgeous death pageant of the kingly knight, famed alone for his courage against the Saracens and the battle of Acres. The date on the tomb of the greatest of Crusaders, is 1200. He died in 1199, and the tombstone was finished the following year.

ONE VIEW OF ISEN.

Liked a Glass of Liquor, Also Flowers and American Women—Had no Mock Modesty.

A writer in Truth says that Ibsen, the son of a Danish skipper who retired from sea to keep shop in Norway, and of a German mother, had the impulsiveness of one whose forefathers had drunk freely of beer and brandy spirits. He himself drank freely (but not to the tipping degree) of whiskey, gin and grog.

I saw him take in the coffee-room of the Grand Hotel, where he held a levee, what I may call a Scotch glass of whiskey, neat, and in about three-quarters of an hour a nip of gin. Most Norwegians of his years would not have noticed these potations, and they did not affect the poet's head in the least. I dare say that a spirituous stimulant unloosed the ideas that had been collecting in his head and enabled him to make a satisfactory start in writing, for he did not take up his pen to answer letters until he had taken the pick-me-up.

I noticed that he never took drinks with Americans who had made his acquaintance, and that he preferred conversing with fair Americans. They generally brought flowers to present to him on being introduced or on introducing themselves. Ibsen had no mock modesty in receiving these acts of homage to his genius. Garden flowers, such as tea and La France roses, are not to be had in the sacking in Christiania, and I should fancy must be imported as
